MRS. RUTH'S MISSING JEWELS FOUND IN SAFE KEEPING IN NEW YORK

On the theory that Mrs. "Babe" Ruth was burned to death while drugged or poisoned, a second autopsy was performed on her body in Watertown today. At the North Grove st. mortuary an examination and chemical tests were being made.

The autopsy was performed in carrying out the district attorney's declared intention to probe the tragic death of Mrs. Ruth. The body was taken to the morgue for nearly a month, but previously had been placed in a casket at the Watervan undertaking rooms of W. H. Thomas—and then the organs were brought to Boston for inspection by Medical Examiner McGuire, for possible cause of death.

During the day a hunt had been started for the jewelry of Mrs. Ruth, including a $9000 engagement ring, thought to have been missing.

This hunt ended when it was learned they were in safe keeping in New York. There at least six costly pieces in the collection of Mrs. Ruth, including two carrying diamonds.

Mrs. Ruth, who was burned to death in the home of Dr. Edward H. Kinder, Watervan dentist, where she lived as his

Included in her collection were an engagement ring, a dinner ring, a studded bracelet, a necklace, lavalliere, breastpin and decorative hatpin.

The funeral of Mrs. Ruth, scheduled to be held today from the South Boston home of her mother and sisters, was held up as a result of the second autopsy.

In expectation of having the body removed to South Boston.

Desorption Island, Antarctica Jan. 11.—(Monday)—Via the Waliser Hektorika and KUP. San Francisco Examiner Wireless Station.—The last hope of continuing our Antarctic work this season faded yesterday afternoon.

MEANS BIG EXPENSE

Then we were forced to the conclusion that under the circumstances it would be inadvisable to go south at this time.
Such a program would involve great expense, with one machine on the stern of the whale catcher, and chancing whether we might find a suitable takeoff field on the Antarctic pack, with our equipment reduced to an absolute minimum, we cannot risk a flight to Ross Sea now.

Our second plane will be dismantled and stored with the other one, to await our return next season.

We will take the first opportunity to get home, and we have hopes of reaching New York
early in March.

MAIL ARRIVES

"Maudie" arrived here yesterday, but was unable to enter the harbor because of fog and low visibility.
She brought a large assortment of very welcome mail, departure.

THRILL SLAYER GOES ON TRIAL FOR HIS LIFE

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 15 (NS)—George Herschel's trail of reckless adventure led him today into a court of justice, to the menace of the electric chair and to a grim fight for life.

The strain of the confessed
"thrill" murderer's desperate plight was unmistakable in his solemn face, lined as no 19-year-old face has any right to be, as he entered the Superior Court room at 9 o'clock to answer the charge of killing William Smith, a state clerk.

The erstwhile university student is also under indictment for the murder of H. H. Meek, another state clerk. He will be tried on this charge later.

REPUTABLE CONFESSION
Richard Gaddy, Herschel's alleged accomplice, will go on trial January 29, Solicitor John A. Boykin announced.

Herschel confessed to police he killed Smith, who resisted his attempt to rob the drug store where Smith was employed; but the lawyers will attempt to ignore that confession to prevent its use in the structure of discredited mentality which they will urge as the explanation for the deed.

And for all the interest in the personality of the wealthy college youth, he seemed a subdued and incidental figure in the drama that emerged upon this stage at 9 o'clock as he stepped forward, and with his white face drawn in a strained and withered frown.

START PICKING JURY.
The task of selecting a jury began at once. For this, 250 venismen had been summoned in addition to the regular panel of 50.

Herschel's mother, his brother, W. A.
Herschel, and his sister, Mrs. J. G.
Herschel, of Atlanta, entered with the father's husband 12 minutes early.

But six feet away sat another black-haired figure. This was the widow of William Smith, the girl whose honeymoon of only a few weeks had been shattered allegedly by Herschel's bullet. The girl's face was dead white beneath the veil that fell from a small black square.

38 ESCAPE FLAMES IN WALTHAM CITY HOME

AGED INMATES
SAVED AS CITY
HOME BURNS

Thirty-four aged and infirm inmates of the Waltham City Home, three women employees and a nine-year-old girl were driven from their beds into the snow-covered street today when fire swept through the two and one-half story wooden building.

The building inmates, one of them dying, were removed from the home on stretchers and taken to the Waltham Hospital. They are Anthony Davis, 85, in critical condition, and Alden Brown, 80, an invalid.

Mayor Henry F. Bowditch arrived on the scene with firemen, rescued the 24 men and women.
Firemen police and still were participating in the rescue.

TAKEN IN AUTOS
Fifteen of the nine inmates were taken in the automobiles of the mayor, police and citizens to the Waltham police station and cared for in the guardroom there.

The 17 elderly women inmates were removed to the Waltham Hospital. Several were suffering extreme shock. Mayor Bowditch made several trips to the hospital with inmates as his passengers.

Three employees and the nine-year-old daughter of one of them were forced to flee the flames. They are Mrs. Mary Caldwell, matron,
Alma M. Smith, assistant matron, Mrs. Mary Harrington and Esther Harrington, the latter the youngest person in the home.

Active in the early rescue work was the electrician in charge of 37-year-old John McElmish, keeper of the Waltham dog kennel, which is located in an outbuilding of the home.

Awakened by smoke, McElmish opened the men's wing of the home and went from bed to bed, raising the sleeping inmates and directing them to safety.

When the wing was cleared, McElmish refused to leave himself and went with the other men to the Waltham Hospital, who last denied reports of a romance between him and the inmate who was killed.

The fire started on the first floor near the boiler room and was caused by a defective chimney, according to Chief George L. Johnson.

IN MEN'S WING
The flames began on the first floor, through the second, and then the flames.

Most of the fire was confined to the men's wing.
John McElmish, and John O'Neil, inmates, discovered the fire when smoke seeping through from the first floor to their bedrooms on the second floor, awakened them.

The frightened men ran to a new section of the home now under construction, where they found Harold Bowman, a fireman, at work doing outs.

The men's section was so badly damaged that officials feared they could not return to the home until repairs are made. It is believed that the structure's value may be reopened when cleared of water.

SENT TO HOSPITAL
Meanwhile, the women will be cared for at the Waltham Hospital and through arrangements made by J. Arthur Burke, agent of the Waltham Public Welfare Department, with Miss Florence Fitzgerald, overseer of the poor of New Haven.

The fifteen men will be transferred to the Newton City Home, where they are available.

Chief Johnson estimated that the damage to the building was $10,000. The new section, now under construction, is a modern fireproof building.

An unknown taxi driver raced his car at the disposal of officials during the removal of the inmates to the police station and hospital.

Sergeant William Lyons and Patrolman John Stanton and Michael O'Neil led a number of the inmates from the burning home.

moonshine by storing liquor in a well-stocked rig on the Woodman Farm on Bowler st., Essex, received a total of eight years' suspended jail terms and fines aggregating $2000, in Federal Court today, at the home of Judge James M. Norton.
The sextet pleaded guilty to two felonies, one charging them with the manufacture and possession of liquor at the farm, and the other alleging a conspiracy to effect the illegal distillation.
Robert Woolfson and Vito Bu-raro were fined $200 and given suspended terms of two years each;
Charles H. Dunbar and Corliss Liz-zardelli, were each fined $250 and sentenced to a suspended term of year and a day in jail; Louis Deval, a seventh member of the group, was placed on probation for a year.
Their indictment followed a recent raid on the farm which revealed 150 gallons of liquor in the place and an illegal still in full operation in a nearby barn.

AWAIT RULING ON NEW TRIAL FOR KNOWLTON

After hearing arguments on motions for a new trial for Frederick William Knowlton, Jr., convicted of the murder of Margarette Isabel Stewart, in Middlesex Criminal Court, Judge Wilfred D. Gray today left the matter under advisement.

A surprise was sprung when it was revealed that a charge of insanity against the government's star witness, Floyd J. Rand, has been not proved by Dist. Atty. Robert T. Lushnell.

The defense in this fight for Knowlton's life, produced a witness, Mrs. Emma Kennedy, who testified that Miss Stewart was in Beverly about midnight on the eve of her death and that she drove away in a black touring car with a man.

They produced another witness, William L. Lane, who asserted that he saw a girl get out of a light-colored Chrysler motor car in Beverly at about the same time that night and that the girl walked toward the Beverly School for the Deaf while the man drove toward Boston.

The defense claims that this new evidence, if presented to the jury at the trial, would have changed the verdict. The significance of the new evidence is, it is claimed, that the government claimed in the trial that Knowlton, after murdering Miss Stewart on March 25, never took her back to the Beverly school where she was smothered to death.

He claimed he took her to Beverly, let her off near the school and never saw her again.

Knowlton was calm and apparently unmoved during the fight to save him from the chair. He sat in the prisoner's cage in the courtroom and took no part in the proceedings.

CONDEMN LACK OF SYSTEM IN CITY STREETS

Cleveland, O., Jan. 15 (AP)—Road building a few years ago concerned the country, city, state and nation today it concerns all nations and the greatest investment of the age for creating good will, mutual understanding and commerce among nations, Crompton said.

The steps taken by a group of nations to construct highways leading from one to another, is probably the greatest investment of the age for creating good will, mutual understanding and commerce among nations, Crompton said.

He believed the visit of President-elect Hoover to the South and Central America will add impetus to the movement for construction of a Pan-American highway, he said.

Chas. H. C. Whitehouse of Washington criticized the entire lack in nearly every city of coordinating of highway, traffic and public utility interests.

"The three things one are constantly upset by the works of the other," he said.

"Aside from mistakes in judgment and of subgrade conditions, I dare say 90 per cent of other failures of streets and roads are due to poor layout and lack of field control or improper maintenance," he said.

Patrolman Hurt in $6000 E. Boston Fire

Fire of undetermined origin caused damage amounting to $6000 to the top floors of three dwelling houses at 132, 134 and 137 South St., East Boston, and Patrolman Varner and another, who were on duty at the time, were injured.

The fire broke out at about 11:30 on the report that an old man had been found in a room in the building.

Children of families in the three houses were all away at school.

LEAP TO SAFETY FROM FIRE

Reynoldsville, Jan. 15—Lansing from a window to safety after being aroused from bed as flames swept inside home, a woman and two men, clad only in night clothes, traveled a quarter of a mile in the bitter cold to the nearest house.

The farmhouse, owned by Mrs. Harriet Margyn, was occupied by her son, Charles, and her daughter, and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Corp.

Corp., awakened by the heavy smoke, rushed the others. They found their escape to the doors cut off, and the windows were frozen.

Margyn broke a window with a chair, and the trio jumped out. The window was on the first floor, but the family was able to save only part of the rear of the house. Damage was estimated at $5000.

BOARD TO BACK STEWART IN OIL FIGHT

Chicago, Jan. 15—Efforts of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., to unseat Col. Robert W. Stewart as chairman of the board of directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, encountered a distinct check today in the announcement of Edward Q. Schubert, president of the Indiana company, that he would support Stewart for reelection to the chair.

Schubert also announced that the directors of the company are unanimously behind Stewart and that a letter would be sent to the stockholders opposing the efforts of Rockefeller to obtain proxies to be used to defeat the chairman. Schubert's statement reads:

"I shall cast my vote for the reelection of Robert W. Stewart, I so informed Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., several months ago and there has never been the slightest doubt as to my attitude. Any information to the contrary is without any foundation in fact."

"The members of the board of directors are unanimous of the same opinion. They also feel that the reelection of Col. Stewart is so important to the best interests of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana that they prepared and signed a statement sent to the stockholders announcing their decision."

and until it could be determined how any increased amount could be most wisely and effectively expended.

COURTIS ARE CLOGGED

"The problem of prohibition enforcement has many ramifications and the successful solution depends not only on ample appropriations for the bureau of prohibition but on the activities and situation of other departments and bureaus of the government."

"The question, therefore, of whether an increase of $25,000,000 in the amount appropriated for the bureau of prohibition will accomplish the results desired by the Congress and this department, is not one that can be answered without a thorough going survey of the entire field, for I assume of course that if any such large sum is to be appropriated, the Congress will desire it to be used with the utmost effectiveness and in a way calculated to bring the greatest results."

"For instance, one of the major difficulties encountered in making the prohibition laws truly effective is the congestion in the United States courts connected, in large part, by numerous pending prohibition cases. It would seem desirable, therefore, if Congress deems it advisable to appropriate an additional sum of $25,000,000 for this general purpose that some consideration should be given to whether a part of this sum should not be allocated to the Department of Justice."

CANADA'S AID NEEDED.

"The problem of smuggling is an important one. Its prevention is largely dependent, under our present conditions, on the assistance of the fleet maintained by the Coast Guard and, in part, adequate customs force at our various ports and, therefore, all borders are concerned, on an effective patrol of the border."

"On account of our failure thus far to secure a satisfactory agreement with Canada, which, in my opinion, would materially reduce the liquor traffic over the Canadian border, the necessity of a thoroughgoing survey to the best means of increasing the effectiveness of our border patrol is apparent. This the department has recently undertaken."

"Inasmuch as the Coast Guard is concerned, some time ago I instructed Admiral Willard to submit a report as to the adequacy of the present Coast Guard fleet, together with an estimate of the Coast Guard building needs over the period of the next five years.

"The problem of securing the necessary personnel under provisions of existing law applying the civil service to the bureau of prohibition and customs border patrol must likewise be taken into consideration. Up to the present time it has been possible to make permanent appointments for only a portion of the service and it is anticipated that many months will elapse before provisions of the civil service act can be fully applied through the furnishing of adequate eligible candidates for the present positions."

DOETS WISDOM.

"Inasmuch as the bureau of prohibition itself is concerned, some additional funds could be advantageously used at present in increased institutional activities and in a well considered educational program."

"Looking to the future, it will no doubt be advantageous to provide additional funds for increased border patrol of the customs service and an increased customs force at some of the principal ports of entry, and increased equipment for the coast guard."

"The department desires, of course, to see every reasonable provision made for adequate enforcement of the law, but I do not believe any such large sum as is provided for in the present deficiency bill should be appropriated until the survey suggested has been completed, and until it can be determined how any increased amount can be most wisely and effectively expended."

"In other words, I am not prepared to say that prohibition enforcement could be made more effective by the expenditure in increased amounts for this purpose, but I do feel that no such appropriations should be made until they can be definitely allocated to certain specific purposes and that any other method of procedure will necessarily result in the extravagant use of the public funds."

COLD WAVE IN STORM WAKE

Paul, 21 below in Duluth and four below in Chicago.

This cold wave is marching eastward rapidly, and is expected to arrive here tonight, displacing the storm, and to be in turn displaced by another snowstorm, now raging in Nevada and the West.

There was a 10-degree rise of temperature here over the same period yesterday, but Meteorologist Loveland expected the mercury would not get above 20 today.

In the middle west half a dozen deaths attributed to the cold, were reported, together with innumerable accidents resulting from the snow.

One of those critically injured in an automobile crash was Lou Kocouff, Chicago automobile dealer.

Six Chicago Deaths Laid to Cold Wave

Chicago, Jan. 15 (INS)—Six deaths were attributed here to the latest cold wave. Two fatalities, both women, were attributed to the cold, were killed, the body of a newly born baby was found frozen to death, two men died in their rooms and another collapsed while shoveling snow.

The blizzard that followed the record drop in temperature was general and was attributed to the cold, were reported, together with innumerable accidents resulting from the snow.

rapid recovery. Marshal Foch is in his 75th year; M. Clemenceau is in his 70th year.

Former Premier Clemenceau's illness was revealed when an international news service correspondent called at his home in the Rue Franklin to inform him of Marshal Foch's serious condition.

The aged "Tiger," as he has long been known because of his vigorous political policies, was found confined to his bed with the grip. He is under the care of Dr. Desprez, one of the six doctors who have been treating Marshal Foch.

News of the illness of the famous soldier and the equally famous statesman, came as a surprise to Paris. There was a constant stream of visitors during the day at the marshal's home in Rue de Grenelle, among them was Hugh Wallace, former United States ambassador to France.

It was announced last night that slight improvement was noted in Marshal Foch's condition. It is understood that he has been subject to some sinking spells which caused deep anxiety on Monday, when six doctors were called into consultation.

SEEK TARIFF OF 25 PER CENT ON SHINGLES

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Calder, the second group of witnesses on the metals schedule, the House ways and means committee today received further requests for shingles in tariffs on steel products. The committee had 100 representatives of the industry to hear in two days because it fell behind its program.

Although the wood schedule will not be taken up until next Thursday, a brief was filed with the committee today by the tariff committee of the cedar industry of Washington, Oregon and Idaho requesting a duty of 25 per cent ad valorem on shingles and cedar lumber, now on the free list.

Since 1925 when the present tariff has been written, the brief declared, more than half the cedar mills of the northwest state had been forced into bankruptcy, while the remainder are nearly bankrupt. Since the removal of the shingle tariff in 1913, it is said, the cedar industry has sustained an average yearly loss of 16 per cent, while British Columbia has gained 22 per cent.

Calling attention to the duty of $1 a thousand feet on cedar posts, the brief said American shingle manufacturers admitted the fairness of this duty "provided a fair tax is imposed on shingles and cedar lumber."

As the tariff now stands, the brief added, the lost tax amounts "actual United States tariff protection to foreign producers and foreign employment, and gives employment preference and oriental labor over the American workmen."

By LOUISE RICE
Noted Graphologist

"DEAR MISS RICE—I cannot hold a position. I get laid off. I have recently taken a course in manicuring. Would I succeed as a cashier? Do tell me what is the matter and why I am such a failure. How may I succeed?"
Vera B., Cambridge.

Every one in a while, Vera, I get discouraged, and that is when I read letters like yours and look at the hand writing, and think of the millions of people wandering around, just the way you are doing, when any graphologist of even fair rating could tell at once what the matter is.

You are no more a manicurist or a cashier than I am a seamstress. You are a failure, and that is an absolute certainty.

Let me tell you, in a word, what is really the matter.

do tell me what why I am such may I succeed?

You are a fine commercial and apothecary artist. All in the world that you need to start you off, so that you know I'm right, is about six months in an art school. You'd find out that the very "temperament" which is not good, from the business man's standpoint, is the very thing, from the art teacher's standpoint, you'd find into the hardest work you ever did in your life and have moments of black despair, but you'd go on, ever and ever better.

WORK ON THE SIDE
I appreciate the fact that you may have to work in the meantime. I've got something that you can do mechanically and that is not an important job. Save the best of your handwriting for analysis.

Have Your Handwriting Analyzed
Send a sample of your handwriting to Miss Louise Rice, noted graphologist, for analysis. Write clearly on unruled paper, in ink or pencil, adding your usual signature.

SULLIVAN RITES PLAN CANVAS TO TOMORROW VACCINATE

The funeral of William J. Sullivan, 46, will be held tomorrow at 2 o'clock from his home, 27 Narrows street, Quincy, with high mass of requiem at St. John's Church at 10 o'clock. He died of pneumonia at the Quincy Hospital following the two-day illness.

Sullivan was one of the best known newspapermen in this part of the country, being equally at home in the mechanical and editorial department. He was born in Boston and received his elementary education in St. Mary's Parish, Boston College High School, later attending Boston College for a time.

He began his newspaper career on the Boston Herald and joined the mechanical staff of the Boston Evening American 10 years ago.

Later he joined the Boston Telegram and then went to New York on the Bulletin. He resigned from the paper to become business manager of the Fall River Globe, remaining there with great success until the Globe was reorganized, when he resigned and returned to the Boston Evening American.

Are You Run Down,
Weak, Nervous?

To have plenty of firm flesh and the ability to do a big day's work and feel like a two-year-old at night, you must eat three good meals a day, relish your food and properly digest it. If you can't eat, can't sleep, can't work, just take a teaspoonful of Tanlac before meals.

Mr. Stephen Vialle, of 127 Springdale Ave., Meriden, Conn., says: "I was a weak, thin, puny boy and grew up to manhood in that condition. But Tanlac fixed me up. It brings back lost appetite, helps you digest your food, and gain strength and weight. It contains no mineral drugs; it is made of roots, berries and herbs, nature's own medicine for the sick. The cost is less than 2 cents a dose. Get a bottle from your druggist. Your money back if it doesn't help."

Death of Divorcee
Leads to Inquiry

The sudden death under mysterious circumstances of Mrs. Helen M. Grant, 35, divorcee, for 12 years housekeeper for James P. Dugan, 79, of Chelmsford, Mass., was revealed today when Medical Examiner Timothy Leary started an investigation. Mrs. Grant was found dead in the Rogers apartment on Joseph Street at Pleasant St., Roxbury, who called to collect the rent.

The police were notified and the body was removed to the City hospital morgue and Dr. Leary was notified.

Her former husband, Edward M. Grant, was located and said they had been divorced since 1917. She formerly was Miss Helen M. Grant and her only relatives are believed to be two sisters, last heard of in Pittsford.

SMOOTHER AND BETTER—"NOT A COUGH IN A CARLOAD":

BOX OF RECORDS TAKEN FROM DR. KIDDER'S HOME HELD BY POLICE

BABE RUTH DOES NOT CARE IF HE EVER PLAYS BALL AGAIN

now in the possession of Chief Milmore of the Watertown police, who will deliver it to no one until a receiver is court order for its return.

This box, it is said, contains a copy of the birth record of Babe Ruth and a copy of Mrs. Ruth's marriage certificate when she was the wife of the Babe. Chief Milmore says he does not know what records are contained among the papers in the box, but that no one can see them until the box is delivered by order of the court.

Forty-four years ago, before "Babe" Ruth was legally of age, he was married to Miss Leon Woodford in Detroit City, Mich., near St. Mary's industrial school, where's slacks were made. Babe's first wife died when he was 13 and first played the game in which he is now the world's "king of slacks."

According to the records of the court of Howard County, Md., it was in October, 1914, that "Babe" appeared at the Elliott City court house with Miss Helen Woodford and asked for a marriage license. It identified himself then as George B. Ruth, Jr., and, as he was only 23 years old, he filed a note from his father, George B. Ruth, then the content of the elder Ruth to the nuptials.

Miss Woodford's age was given as 18 years. Both gave their addresses as Boston.

The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. Thomas J. Delaney in St. Paul's Catholic Church in Elliott City.

Declarations made to newspaper men by Miss Ruth Woodford, a cousin sister of Mrs. Ruth, that she was a divorcee, and that she was attending by Mrs. Ruth, himself and Christy Walsh in the state's office in New York city, demanded a divorce from his wife on the ground that he wanted to marry another woman and give her child a name, was branded by "Babe" Ruth himself, and Miss Helen Woodford, counsel for Mrs. Ruth's family, as a lie.

The declarations were made at an interview with reporters at the home of Miss Woodford, 338 South Street, Boston. Miss Woodford, in charging that the famous slugger fought with Mrs. Ruth for a divorce, said she was in position to make the statement because she was present at the meeting attended by "Babe," Christy Walsh and Mrs. Ruth, heard the argument among them and took notes.

Five Waltham men are facing heavy jail sentences today following their arraignment before Judge Morison in the federal court as a result of their recent conviction by a jury of liquor manufacturing conspiracy charges. In addition to the jail terms, heavy fines were imposed.

Leonard Bennett was fined $100 and given two years in jail; Mike Madonna was sentenced similarly; Tony Clute, Salvatore Neri and Raymond Battaglia were given sentences of one year and one day. All the sentences are to be served at New Bedford jail.

At City Hall, Stone prosecuted the cases upon evidence obtained by Dennis J. Larkin, a police sergeant, and several others, with a view to the liquor stills in Western and Marlboro.

The Western still was housed in the boatbarn belonging to the B. A. A. run club.

Ban Auto Parking in Theater District

New City Jan. 15 (AP)—Police Commissioner Whelan warned today that beginning Monday night wrecking cars would line up the nearest police station and private automobiles would be parked in the theater district during theater hours. Owners of cars will get traffic violation summonses when they appear to obstruct the machines.

The new measure is part of the commissioner's plan to reduce traffic congestion in the midtown theater district.

$35,383 Rum Fines in Somerville

Liquor law violators in Somerville paid $35,383 in fines during 1928, according to a report filed today by Chief of Police Keogh.

The squad, headed by Lieut. Charles J. Smith, seized 259 gallons of unlawful beverages, the report said. A total of 259 persons were taken to court.

Of 28 jail sentences, 33 were suspended. Of these, 26 were made up by Superior Court. Three defendants were placed on probation. Penalties, as finally imposed, totaled 141 months.

Edison Off to South in Happy Spirits

New York, Jan. 15 (AP)—Thomas A. Edison, accompanied by Mrs. Edison, left today for his annual winter season at Fort Myers, Fla., where he will be joined by his cronies, Harvey Firestone and Henry Ford.

The inventor grinned and showed a small pocket flashlight at newsmen when photographers lined up at the station to take his picture. He seemed in excellent health and spirits and gave ample proof of reports that he had gained 25 pounds in weight in the last few months.

WASH. INSISTS BABE RUTH WAS NOT DIVORCED

Portland, Ore., Jan. 15.—Christy Walsh, close friend and financial adviser of Babe Ruth, declared today that he would give up his own position and absent himself from his family, if necessary, to say that Babe Ruth was not divorced.

Ruth and Mrs. Ruth were not divorced, said Walsh. Mrs. Ruth was always proud to be the wife of the famous Babe. She and her husband were planning a trip together to Maryland when Walsh last heard from them, he asserted.

Walsh said further: "Regardless of the terrible circumstances, I am deeply grieved at the death of Mrs. Ruth. She was a great little woman and her devotion to Babe, especially in some of his past difficulties, was a beautiful example of loyalty."

"Despite any inference I can post they say, Babe and his wife were not divorced. Both of them were in New York office with me three weeks ago. We were going over personal and business matters, and she was calling him 'Babe' and 'George,' just as she had for years at Yankee stadium."

"Babe Ruth lived for her husband and their little girl (Barney). She was proud to be Mrs. Babe Ruth. When Babe was in the hospital, after every game in which her condition didn't get a slight improvement, she would say, 'Babe Ruth got a home run today.'"

"If the child lived for his father, the wife would live with him. There was in difficulty when he was in the hospital, and she was always at his side when he was in the hospital. Babe would fly to the defense of the Babe."

"I have been unable to reach Babe by telephone, not in a long distance talk with my office. I am sorry, as I already mentioned that Babe is crushed by the awful tragedy."

"As far as arrangements are concerned, Babe is in Boston fully capable of directing everything. Although I have just reached the city, I am ready to go at once to see Babe, if he needs me."

3 POLICEMEN BILL WOULD FACE CHARGES BAR COSMETICS

New Bedford, Jan. 14.—Charges against three policemen of this city are to be heard by the board of aldermen at a special meeting to be called by Mayor Aspley. Aldermen Andrew F. McLeod has been sitting since January 7 and is charged with neglect of duty. Policemen Arthur A. Dufresne, who was held for the grand jury on a charge of charges after a long trial last week, is accused of neglect of duty for failure to report his possession of a slot machine which he took from a store. Sergeant Charles F. Bell is charged with disrespect to a superior officer.

Year Term for False Information on His Marriage License

Fremington, Jan. 12.—William F. Collins, 27, automobile salesman, will today start serving a sentence of a year in the house of correction following conviction on the charge of having given false information in obtaining a license in wed Miss Myra Hessel, 20, a student nurse in the Boston City Hospital. Collins gave his address as New York, but the police learned that he lived in Salem and has a son and child, together with police record, in that city. He has served time in the Concord Reformatory.

ECHELON HOST TO RADIO MEN

Announcers and radio artists whose names and voices are familiar to every Boston listener will appear in person at the first big social night staged at the Echelon Chamber tomorrow evening under the auspices of Echelon, a new social organization within the Chamber.

Echelon, based somewhat upon the famous Knights of Akaberen, of London, and which is expected eventually to develop the highly meritorious economies of the western outfit, already numbers more than 200 members.

A breakfast dinner in the main dining room will open the festivities, social affair, with microphone and other studio fixtures. They have been built at one end of the hall for presentation of "A Day in a Studio," bringing before the audience the notable figures in the Boston broadcasting world.

Boston United Jewish $50,000 committee, for the support of 29 local Jewish philanthropies and social welfare organizations, is expected to move well towards the goal when the United Jewish Fund drive will be held at a meeting of some 500 leaders and supporters to be held in the Elgin Club tonight.

Lucas P. Kirschen, chairman of the committee, points out that the entire structure of Boston's Jewish charities depends upon the response in this effort to annihilate whole courses of Jewish charitable institutions under a single fund gathering.

3 Thugs Shoot Up South End House

Three young gunmen who staged a veritable Wild West show in the home of Mrs. Isabelle Launson, of Acton, at South End, today were being sought by the police. The officers, however, were handicapped by the fact the woman refused to reveal the names of the trio. She threw them, she admitted, feared the youths would shoot her if she did.

Firing several shots, the gunmen, who were masked when they entered the house, disturbed the neighbors.

Mrs. Launson said they started to attack her. Her son and daughter, a previous marriage, Marion and Peter, both came in her assistance and the men drew their guns and started to shoot up the place.

An frightened neighbor of the place dropped to the floor, the three gunmen started to plug holes through pictures, mirrors and light fixtures. Then they fled.

WAR DEPT. HITS DEVELOPMENT AT SQUANTUM

Washington, Jan. 14.—Plans for an immense development by the War Department at the navy base at Squantum, Mass., today appeared doomed because of the desire of the War Department to locate an army air field there. The property is owned by the Navy Department.

The matter was brought up before the House naval affairs committee by representatives of the Victory Terminal Corporation of Boston. The corporation was represented by Max Mitchell of Boston and State Senator Henry L. Rhoads of Quincy.

An extension of its present lease for a further term of 25 years is sought by the corporation.

The development plans include the establishment of a private airport of large dimensions, the erection of factories and additional storage depots, and the location there of a mammoth oil and gasoline storage station, the building of wharves, the dredging of the channel and other improvements totalling many millions of dollars.

Capt. R. G. Irwin of Manchester, Mass., representing the Curtis Aircraft Company, told the committee he had better stop before he established a private airport at Squantum, fear of the Victory Terminal Company, if assured of a long term tenure. The other projects are dependent on securing the extension of the lease.

Objection to the gasoline and oil storage feature of the development was voiced by two Quincy citizens. The committee reached no decision.

Broker Who "Ran $10 Into Millions" Dies

Atlantic City, N. J., Jan. 14 (AP)—"Jack" Field, who for 15 years was a daring gambler on the New York Stock Exchange, is dead. He retired in 1915 after selling for $125,000 a seat that cost him $100.

He ran an initial speculation of $10 into millions, but on retiring said if he had to start again he would be a broker.

Field was the Wall Street czar—so called Jacob Field died at 73 of pneumonia.

MOUNTAIN SOCK BRINGS HER DIVORCE

Peaceful atmosphere of Mount Mansfield, Vt., failed to work its charm on Dr. Paul W. Cronch, Boston dentist, according to Mrs. Rachel K. Cronch of Newton Center, and instead of effecting a reconciliation with her on that most appropriate spot, he chose it as the scene for another painful accounting with her.

In fact, she told Judge Charles N. Harris in the Middlesex County supreme court that the affair was a most one-sided encounter as the doctor merely reached out and knocked her down. Furthermore, she says he did this just as she was in the act of bringing a threat from his post.

Mrs. Cronch enumerated other acts of cruelty on the part of her husband and was granted a decree of divorce and the custody of their new child. The matter of alimony will be settled out of court.

Numerous divorces were charged by wives before Judge Harris, including accusations wherein alarm clocks were used as missiles by an angered husband. One husband declared that when he asked his wife for a clean shirt she told him to wash one himself.

Besides the decree to Mrs. Cronch, divorces granted were to Georgetown, W. Conway of 15 Hemenway st., from Sidney E. Tooley, Iowa hotel of Cambridge from Robert Louis Charles E. Volander of Cambridge from Elmer Volander, Beatrice M. Bender of Everett from George J. Bender and Alice E. Nolan of Malden from Raymond E. Nolan. The cases will be placed on the docket for trial in the court house at Newburyport, N. H., today.

Queen's Vanity Cost King of Afghans His Throne

London, Jan. 15 (AP)—The Queen's vanity cost King Amanullah of Afghanistan his throne. It is believed in London. He has abdicated in favor of his 16-year-old brother, Prince Inayatullah Khan, from whom he usurped the throne in 1919. After their return from a trip through western Europe, King Amanullah and Queen Soraya tried to introduce "reforms." The queen's vanity, fondness for Parisian clothes and insistence that Afghan women should dress the fashion led to a revolt among the tribesmen, who particularly resented abolition of the veil. Prince Inayatullah has no reforming zeal. He was educated in Afghanistan and is an excellent rifle shot and horseman.

--avoid "dosing"

A PECULIARITY of influenza is that it taxes upon the digestive system. Too much "dosing," especially in the case of children, still further disturbs the digestion, and should be avoided except on advice of a physician. Vicks VapoRub is especially valuable because it is applied externally, and so can be used freely without upsetting the most delicate digestion.

FLU

How best to use Vicks VapoRub

- 1. As A Preventive
Several times a day, insert Vicks up the nostrils, also melt a little night and morning in a bowl of boiling water and inhale the steaming medicated vapors.
- 2. If a Cold Starts
If possible, go home and go to bed. Apply hot wet towels over throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. Then rub vigorously with Vicks. Spread on thickly and cover with warm flannel.
- Leave the bed-covering loose, so that the vapors, released by the body-warmth, may be freely inhaled. At the same time, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice.
- Repeat this treatment every four hours, eat lightly, and stay in bed until the cold is broken. Complete rest helps the body to throw off the cold more quickly.
- 3. After A Flu Attack
Physicians advise that the chief danger in this epidemic is after influenza. The mucus, then ever, colds attacking the weakened system may lead to bronchitis, sinus-trouble or pneumonia. This is especially true of children or old folks.
- Heed even the slightest cold as a danger signal and treat it promptly without "dosing."

Nevada Court Gives Woman a Divorce She Doesn't Want

Remo, Nev., Jan. 15 (AP)—Al though no definite move has been made by either side against a decision rendered by Judge Ballard of Carson City in awarding Mrs. Clifford V. Brokaw of New York a divorce over her protest, attorneys said today it was probable that a new trial would be asked or an appeal would be taken to the Supreme Court.

The case gained prominence when it was found Mrs. Brokaw had refused a settlement of three million dollars. She did not want a divorce, and pleaded for $100,000 for maintenance.

FAST NEWTON HIGH SCHOOL BATON CARRIERS

Carl Pescasalido, Dick Reynolds, "Hap" Mullen, Bob Ewing

Newton high will again be represented on the door track this year with a fast team. That is a sentiment that prevails at the Orange and Black school. And right is right, for if the time trials of the relay team which will represent the Newtonville school this year is any criterion another championship squad is in the making. To date they have scored victories over Brookline and Medford, two of the strongest teams in Greater Boston.

A Thrilling Mystery Story of Love and Danger

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR

On his first day in the Air Mail Service Dick Tent seems doomed to disappointment. A heavy snowstorm causes K. Michael, the station superintendent, to cancel arrangements for Dick's first trip alone across the Rocky Mountains. Suddenly the door opens. Old Rand, owner of the service, and his daughter, enter. He has an important letter for his son Dick offers to fly through with it. As the old man hesitates the daughter says she believes Dick can get through the danger zone pass. The old boy for show of confidence, Dick sorts out the storm still hating the sett view of the beautiful mountain peaks.

The time knocked on the glass itself.

Just that the door was cautiously opened. A face appeared, sudden hand, filled with suspicion.

"What do you want?"

"I'm looking for Tom Hand."

"He's not here. I never heard of him."

"They told me at the airport he was here."

"I don't know. I'll go back and tell them that you're a friend."

'Rainbow Chasing': Story of Madge and Artis

Madge Sayre lives in a dingy New York apartment with her father, an unsuccessful inventor. Madge is a spoiled, spoiled girl. At a party given by Frances Storrs, she meets Carroll Dudley, handsome artist and successful bridge player. Madge falls in love with him, who is warned by Frances Storrs. He asks her to pose for him. Dudley is a bridge player and a professional. He professes his love. She speaks of marriage, which topic Dudley avoids. Over the next few days, Madge is called "a Prince of Cads." When he is out a woman appears in the story. "I am a married woman," she announces Madge. Carroll says love made him hide his marriage. Madge finds that Carroll has exhibited her nude picture at a party of his friends.
